Disney Princess HAND lettering

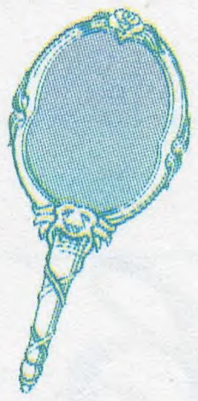

Learning to create beautiful hand-lettering will open you to a new world of artistic possibilities! Make your own invitations, design wall art, and express yourself with style and flair!

Discover an ancient art!

Using markers, you can create the look of calligraphy, which is the art of hand-lettering. Calligraphy is a technique traditionally made using a pen or brush. It has been around for centuries in many cultures. You can re-create the look achieved with a brush with certain kinds of markers:

Brush-tip Marker · Chisel-tip Marker · Cone-shape-tip Marker

For the lettering in this book, you can use a marker with a thin, cone-shape tip that allows you to make thin lines with the thin tip and thicker lines using the side edge of the tip, so you can create...

lovely hand-lettering that looks like this!

TIP

Lift your marker between every stroke. It helps you focus on each individual line, which will create cleaner strokes and beautiful letters.

Trace and practice the upper and lower case letters on the following pages. Take your time and focus on creating the individual lines and learning how to connect them. Once you've mastered the alphabet, you can begin writing words and customizing your strokes!

Uppercase and Lowercase Lettering

Practice each letter. Think of each as a small work of art. Your letters will look more graceful if you practice the skill of lifting your marker after straight strokes before creating the next stroke of each letter. To make the thicker lines on the letters, slightly angle your marker tip and use the wider side edge.

Practice drawing each letter of the alphabet. First, trace the gray line letters. Then, draw the letters on your own.

Once you have mastered the alphabet, you can add smooth, thin lines to connect letters to make words.

Creating Artwork

Disney Hand Lettering is wonderful when used to create works of art that you can hang on your wall or offer as a special gift. (You can even design your own notecards.) The next pages include "frames" to which you can add bright and beautiful hand-lettered phrases to create wall art. Before you add a phrase, practice first on a blank sheet of paper using these composition rules:

1. Choose a phrase you want to hand-letter and think about what it means to you.

2. Decide which are the most important words in the phrase (there may be only one, or there may be a few).

3. Draw just the important words, placing them either side by side or stacked depending on the shape of your framed area.

4. Now complete the phrase adding the remaining words using smaller letters.

5. Add flourishes or doodles to your art to fill in any empty space.

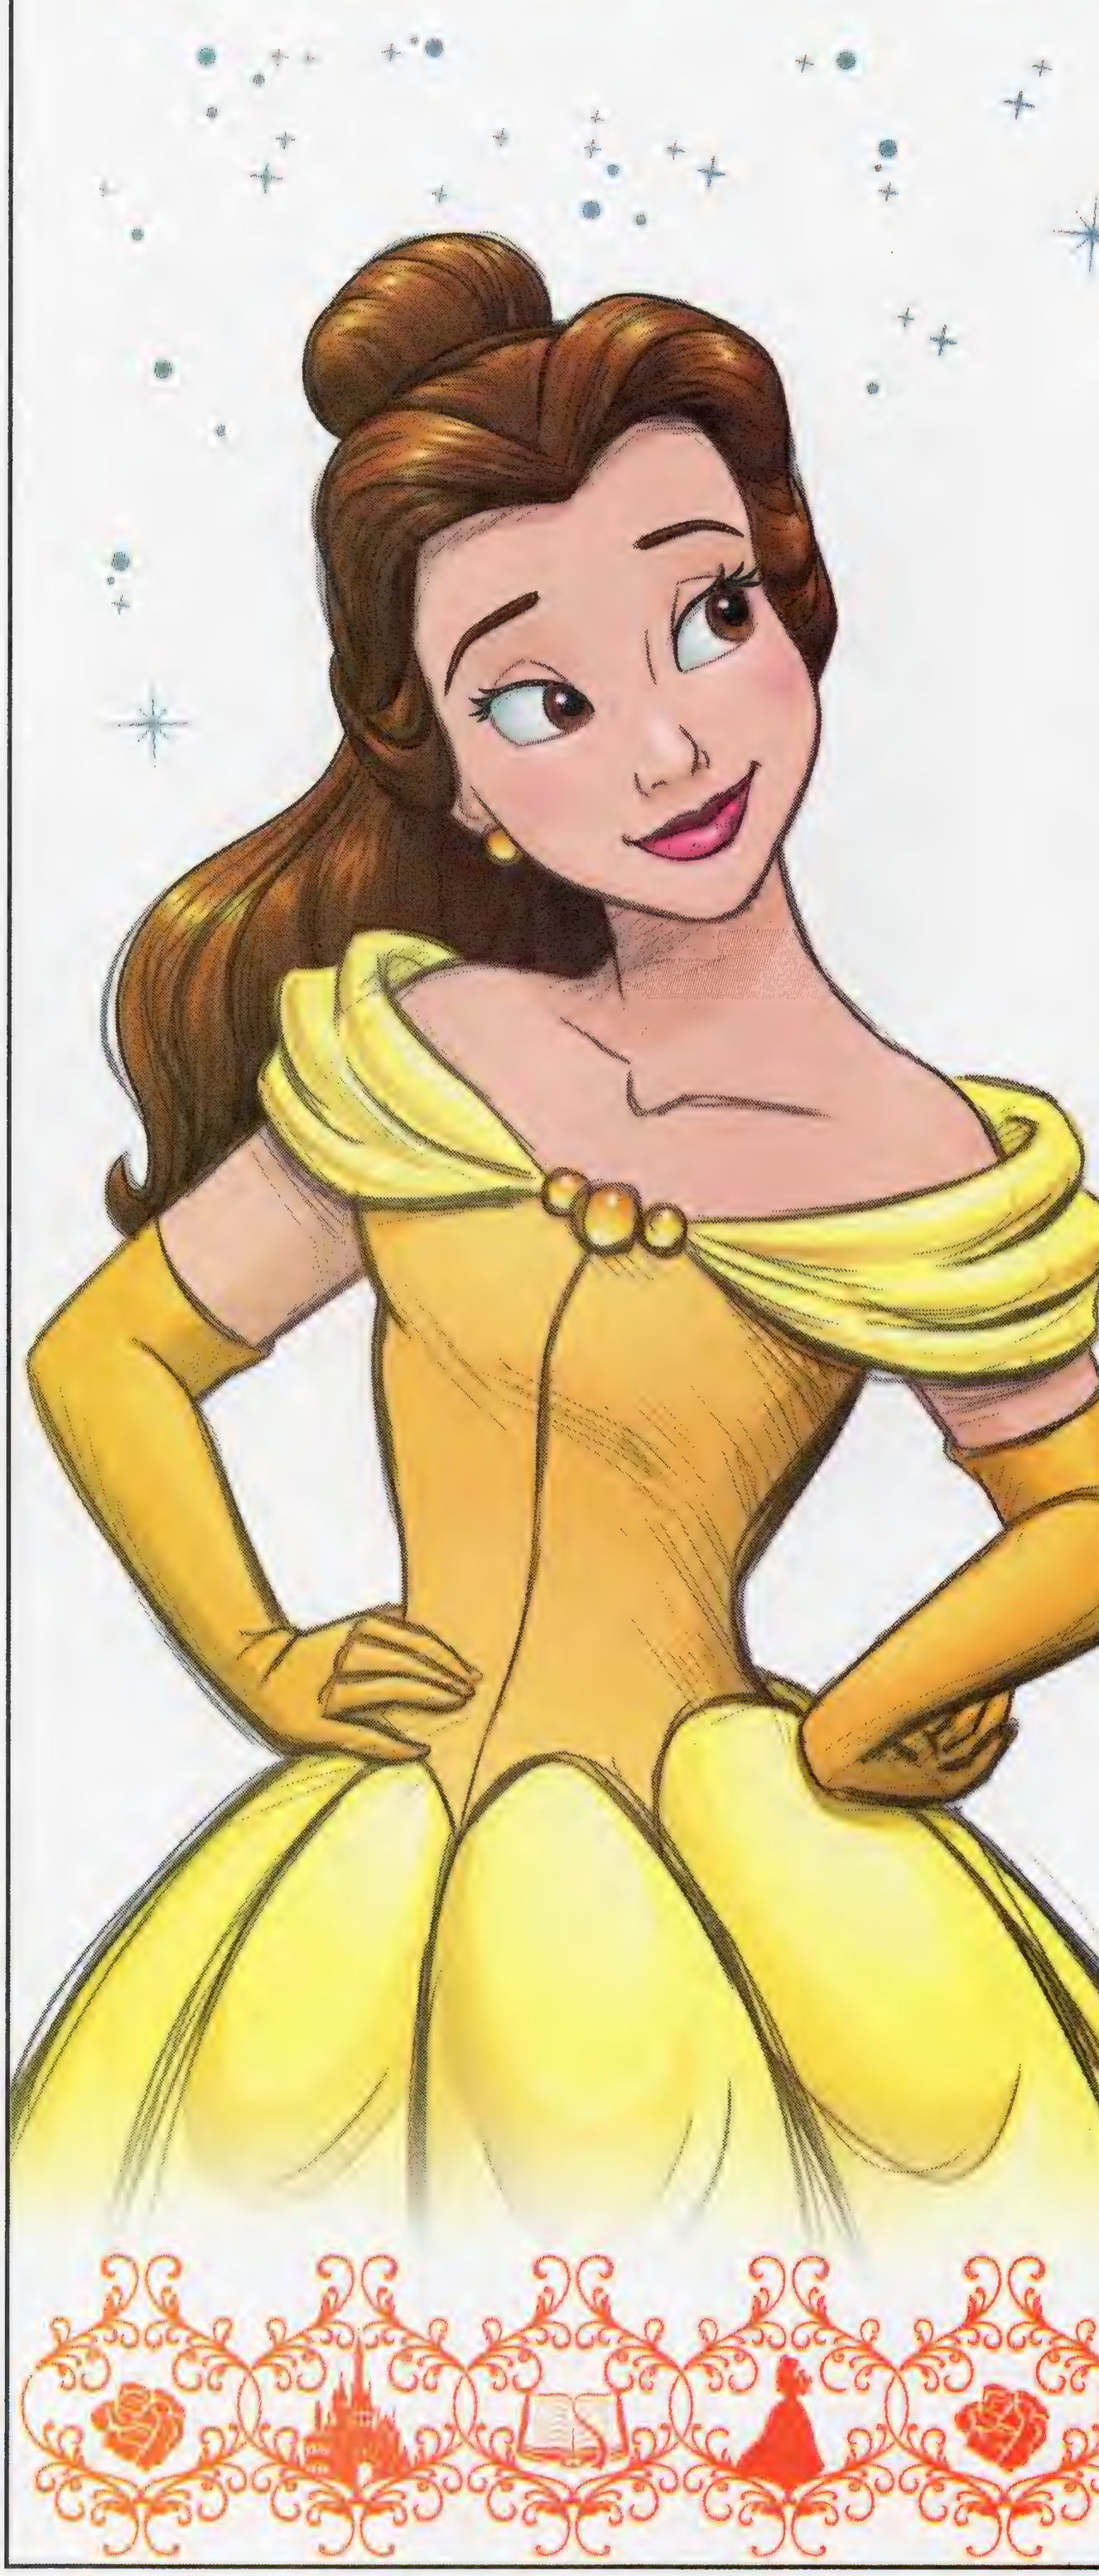

This example follows the color-coded rules above to create a composition for the phrase:
